Dyneros Token

The new currency of visibility

A new virtual currency that can be used to access online services in the technological platforms developed by ALFASSA. This currency is revolutionary as it was created to reverse the paradigm of online communication, today a system that is financed through the commodification of the "selfish consumer", tomorrow to create a community of "conscious consumers".

Exchange Platform

A platform where digital currencies can be exchanged, accessible only to members of the ALFASSA circuit

What are the social repercussions of a communication typical of war scenarios?
What will be the social reactions resulting from the coronavirus-induced fear?

The Homo Novus Foundation, which supports coherent initiatives with the aim of bringing mankind back to work in harmony with their own project of nature, wants to open a working table to explore a topic that needs special attention.

What is the SMART CITY?

Many associate this term with IoT (Internet of Things) technologies, that is, with the ability to computerize things, which in extremely synthetic terms means installing sensors to collect data, for example in LED lamps, which are financed through efficiency projects. energetic. The question is very simple, if the smart city that aims to create value for man and the environment, the common SMART Cities is certainly very far from achieving these goals.
